Postlude

This morning we welcome people passionate about newcomers. You are invited to join us downstairs to hear about the work of Reception House Waterloo Region. It is a temporary home for government-assisted refugees. Thrier most important task is to ensure that guests feel welcome, safe and secure in their new environment. This year, they will assist approximately 800 refugees and migrants who are resettled in the Waterloo region. We are pleased to hear more about this important agency in our area.
